THE FUTURE IS UP TO YOU

To those of you who have supported us with new memberships, renewals for 1998, and many generous gifts, the students and faculty of Grimsley High School extend their sincere gratitude. We hope you will all be very proud of what is being accomplished through your Alumni & Friends organization. Our support of the auditorium renovation effort continues, the newly installed sound system already a critical improvement.

In addition to the athletic equipment purchases and the Jamieson Stadium Fund gift, we are now involved in the Booster Club project that is funding our new Baseball Field lighting system. We have been able to establish an endowment fund and the new Larry Saunders Scholarship fund, provide greatly appreciated financial assistance to the English Department, produce a series of quality newsletters, and create an exciting new website.

This spring, you have made possible the first of what will be annual presentations of student scholarships and faculty awards. Two outstanding students will receive $2,500 to help with educational expenses, while two faculty members will receive $2,500 awards recognizing excellence.

As you read this newsletter, you will be assured once again that the students and faculty are doing their part to continue the tradition of excellence at Grimsley. Our commitment to them has been noble, our accomplishments so far exciting. We now have over 900 members since the Alumni & Friends Association's inception, and have raised nearly $105,000. We are making a real difference. Small, but real. Yet with over 20,000 alumni indebted to a school that is doing it right, so much more can and should be done. Our first year saw a young organization with a few volunteers bring 4-5% of a hesitant and questioning alumni together with admirable results. Imagine what can and will be done with membership levels closer to 10 or 20% and individuals gifting with total confidence that Grimsley High School will gain directly from their efforts. We simply cannot continue sending our newsletter to all 21,000 of our alumni without response. We must direct those monies to the needs of the school, continue sending our newsletters to our active membership, and rely on them to spread the word. With limited funds and so much more that needs to be done, a greater commitment is needed now.

This summer we will begin a competition between the alumni classes to raise membership and gifting. Phone campaigns, letters, personal contracts by volunteers from each class, a spirited effort that will culminate with the celebration of the school's Centennial beginning in 1999. This Centennial competition will be an act of class and school pride, and for many a thank you for the education and guidance, the memories and friends, a recognition of the critical role of our public education system. As always, it will be for the kids, maybe not your own, or even like your own, but more importantly, kids just like you "some" years ago.

If our present membership is not a commitment of support for years to come, we will fail. If our foundation gifts were one time gestures, we will fail. If our working board of directors is ever satisfied without seeking the almost unlimited potential of over 20,000 alumni, we will fail. Those that joined us in 1996-97 need to renew their memberships, recruit their classmates and friends, and consider gifting if they can. The truth is very simple, if we do not continue to grow, we will not be able to fulfill our commitment, or even survive as a productive organization. If you have already responded, thank you so very much. If you have not done so yet, please do not forget us. We are making a difference.

A member of the High Point graduating class of 1937, she was recognized for her work in the community, with the United Methodist Church, and High Point University. Mrs. Brown has one son, three daughters, ten grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren.

Dr. Bill Danenburg of New Port Richey, Florida, class of '44, was recently appointed Professor Emeritus at the University of Southern Florida. His letter noted the recent passing of Mr. J. Kimball Harriman, GHS Orchestra Director 1940-1963, in Athens, Georgia, June 10, 1997.

Linda Dennis of Springfield, Virginia, class of '58, is director of Editorial Services at the Center for Naval Analyses in Alexandria, Virginia.

Judith Stone Lindsay of Greensboro, North Carolina, class of '60, has a daughter Ashley, who is a member of the band, Commonbond, playing guitar and singing all over the northeast. The band is currently working on their third cd.

Rigdon "Rick" "Rig" Dees of Burbank, California, class of '68, recently donated an endowed fund and production equipment to the communication studies department at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Rick Dees Student Production award is a cash gift that will be awarded to one student every year. Mr. Dees also honored Grimsley High School with his second generous gift, the first ever and largest to date contribution to the Hazelman Foundation. Dees is the host of the national radio show, Rick Dees' Weekly Top 40 Countdown.

The $1000 donation I'm sending to the Jameson/Sawyer Foundation is in memory of my first husband, Lynn Duncan (GHS class of '68). As many of our generation at GHS know, he was a stand-out athlete, Honor Society student and just all around good guy. We were friends and lifeguards together in the late 60's and through college - he a Tar Heel football player at Carolina and I in college in Indiana. Yes, we fell in love and I transferred to UNC in '68 and finished my education there and we were married in 1970. He became a commissioned officer and helicopter pilot in the US Navy and served in Viet Nam. We had two beautiful daughters - Sarah (now 28) and Amy (now 26). The story has a sad ending - in 1979, Lynn and his best friend and three crewmen were killed in a crash while on a routine training flight from our home base in Va. Beach to NAS Brunswick, Maine. You never really get over losing someone you love, but life and a strong faith have a way of healing the soul as time goes by. I moved back to Maine and have been here ever since. The girls are great - Sarah is a registered Nurse and lives next door, and Amy is an Art grad and lives and works in Ft. Lauderdale.

I married Larry Trotten in '86 and acquired 2 "sons." So we have a big family - including 5 grandchildren! I am a Systems Analyst for Integraph Corporation - and travel all over as an on site support analyst installing business solutions for large Federal Government projects.

Lynn would want to see the stadium, field house and GHS in general put back to rights. He spent half his life in a field house, on a practice field or golf course or tennis court. Sports and sportsmanship were a foundation of his personality and his career and mine, too through him. I wasn't an academic champion, but GHS was my alma mater, too. I suffered through 3 years of Herb Hazelman's lectures in the band room plus painful nervousness playing French Horn solos at concerts, and trying out for all state band and orchestra. So, all and all there's a lot of both of us in the halls and memories that shaped our teen years. Both of my brothers were active in the sports programs at GHS as well - so I know they join with me in wanting to be proud to say "that's my school" should we ever return to Greensboro again.

Kathy (Howe) Totten

John L. Lomax of Greensboro, North Carolina, class of '80, is a commercial/industrial contractor who recently started Lomax Construction.

Robert (Marty) Blackmon of Raleigh, North Carolina, class of '81, just opened the second office of Blackmon Insurance Agency.

Jeff Ferrell of Raleigh, North Carolina, class of '83, was named head varsity basketball coach at Broughton High School last fall.

Angie Murray of Raleigh, North Carolina, class of '91, is a project coordinator for Lucent Technologies.

A Note from the President . . .

Why Not Our Schools?

In this age of telecommunications wizardry, a world of surround-sound and cellular phones that can call anywhere, why were our Grimsley students and faculty struggling with an unintelligible auditorium sound system that couldn't communicate with the first row? Why not our schools?

We have computers on golf carts, but not enough for our classrooms. We have office buildings standing empty with others under construction, while our classroom shortages are at a near critical stage. Our economy continues its unprecedented growth, yet our schools remain understaffed and our teachers underpaid. With Grimsley High School in need of major renovations, its staff & students without basic air conditioning, I have to question our priorities. Again I ask, why not our schools?

What message do we send to our children about the importance of their education with campuses that virtually scream out indifference and neglect? I believe that this alumni and friends organization must be a leader in affecting change!

Every spring we watch our malls, office parks, clubs and most of our neighborhoods manicure their lawns and meticulously landscape their grounds, planting millions of plants & flowers. Nature's season of renewal also seems to generate frenetic efforts to repair, replace and renovate. Yet campuses like GHS struggle to maintain ground cover, weeds are at least preferable to mud. Plants, flowers and good grass are scarce, low priority luxuries when you desperately need more layers of paint, decent bathrooms and the replacement of primitive furniture. Repairs on walkways, walls and windows just have to wait when money and manpower are needed to educate. I just want to ask, why not our schools?

All the beautiful landscaping, the architectural magnificence of our major office buildings and our new coliseum, the tremendous investment in department store displays, office decor and restaurant ambience -- they all speak of our respect for quality and the value we place on appearance. The logic has always been simple and clear to even the least perceptive, atmosphere and look of quality and excellence suggest importance and imply the presence of that same value and distinction. Most importantly, it can breed that same quality, excellence, pride, respect and feeling of significance in employees, visitors, customers and, yes, students. So, why not our schools?

We must educate and influence our community, involve our businesses and corporations in the support of public education, and continue to provide financial support and individual involvement. The original beauty and warmth of this proud campus must be restored, its students and faculty provided with an atmosphere that reflects the value and importance of education, our immense pride in its continuing success, and the gratitude of its alumni. Not only in Greensboro, but all over this wonderful country of ours, we all need to be asking, Why Not Our Schools?

Sincerely,

Dr. Rick Andringa

A Sporting Note from Coach Joe Franks '78

When was the last time you attended a game at good 'ole GHS? 1997-98 has been full of major changes in our athletic facilities at Grimsley. The original gym floor was completely refinished and repainted prior to this school year. And it is probably the last time this can happen before it will have to be replaced.

Lighting has been a major priority over the past couple of years and the new technology has really "lit up the sky." The traditional wooden light poles in Jamieson Stadium gave way to four sets of lights on metal poles last Spring. But more lights must still be installed because of inadequate specifications to meet the needs of a stadium like ours --- not just your typical high school arena. This Spring, the dream of lighting the Baseball Field became a reality thanks to the tireless efforts of boosters and commitments from the school system and community. The tennis courts have had new lights for a couple of years and are so bright, some passers-by even think the stadium lights must be on!

It is truly amazing that the complex that Coach Bob Jamieson envisioned back in the early 1950s is still one of the premier High School facilities in the state of North Carolina.

The Spring sports season at GHS is usually a successful one, and the 1998 Spring is no exception. Women's Soccer and Men's & Women's Tennis are contenders again for State titles. And several performers in Track could become State Champions. One special girl on the track team, Kim Jones, set a new indoor State record in the long jump this past Winter. And her outdoor jumps have been super so far.

An exciting addition to the athletic playing field, Grimsley has added Boy's Lacrosse as a Varsity Sport. Our first team has been very successful in its inaugural season!

Great things are happening on our campus from the classroom to the field. Please take the opportunity to visit and see the exciting changes, and remember the traditions, for yourself. And thanks so much for your support of the Whirlies.

An Interview with Larry Saunders by Dr. John Krege '82

In my academic career, I've had a lot of teachers. Mr. Saunders stands out to me not only as a phenomenal educator, but also as someone that truly cares and has a tremendous energy and sense of humor. He told me that he would prefer to keep a low profile but he graciously agreed to the following interview. Other than being grayer, he looked about the same as when I graduated from Grimsley in 1982.

How did you become interested in teaching and in math? I had a high school teacher when I was a freshman. Then, when I went to college, there he was again; he had gotten his Master's and was teaching at the college. I wound up taking several courses in college from him.

Really . . . why was he so influential? He was just a good teacher.

And why did you want to teach? I always wanted to teach -- since ninth grade. I told him that I wanted to teach math.

And how did you develop your techniques? (laughing) What techniques? No, I think anybody to be a good teacher, you've got to go for broke. If you have a sense of humor, use it. I always thought I could say whatever I wanted to my students, and they could say whatever they wanted to me. We had our ground rules, of course, such as respect. But I'm a "jerk," and you're a "jerk," you know, a matter of quotations, it's no big deal.

And how about some of your more famous things, like the ginsu? The ginsu I saw on TV, and it caught my attention. And these things can't be taken out of their context. I would never hurt someone!

And, how could you tell, when you were facing the chalkboard, if someone looked out the window? ESPN, it had to be ESPN.

I know a number of times you got me, you were able to tell. Yes indeed. ESPN. How are the birds doing, John? You know, I taught a lot of birds math over the years outside room 411.

What were some of your memorable teaching experiences? Good students year after year. Students going away to college and doing well. You're always interested in how they did at Grimsley and at the college level. I am also proud of my calculus students, we had lots of 'fours' and 'fives' and in 25 years, I think we only had one person get less than a 'three.' I also remember the math contests and one year getting first and third place in the state; and another year getting something like the top four spots in the regional.

I'm sure alumni are concerned about you and would like to know how you're doing since the heart attack. Health wise, I think I'm fine.

And what are your current exploits? I work part time at the library system three days a week, and do a lot of working in the garden, and reading, and that kind of thing.

Fiction or non-fiction? Fiction.

I'm curious to know what it feels like to have had so many students over the years and to have had such an impact on them. Well, it's always nice to hear. That's all I can go on, and I appreciate you people saying that I had that kind of impact.

What was it that kept you in the classroom for 30 years? The students.

{John Krege has a 3-and a 5-year-old. He recently returned to Greensboro to practice medicine.}

History of the History Books

by Peter Byrd '74

Did you know that the WHIRLIGIG, GHS's yearbook first published in 1950, is actually the second such publication in the school's history? The students of Greensboro High School published their first annual in 1909 and the following year named it THE REFLECTOR. From the start, the yearbooks were dedicated to important individuals connected with the school system. Interestingly, the 1910 REFLECTOR honored George A. Grimsley, Greensboro City Schools' Superintendent from 1890 to 1902. Mr. Grimsley had established GHS in 1899, and it was his name that was given to the school in 1962 when its name was changed.

The covers of THE REFLECTOR, always very simple in design, evolved over the years from paperback in the earliest days, to leather-bound, then hardback, before eventually returning to paper covers again for its final volumes. From 1926 through 1929 two editions of THE REFLECTOR were issued each year—one in January and one in June—began when GHS started having two graduating classes each year. The last issue of THE REFLECTOR was published in 1930, after which the yearbook became a casualty of the Depression.

While HIGH LIFE, GHS's newspaper, and HOMESPUN, its literary magazine, would have publication stopped for only a few years because of the Depression, the school would go for 20 years without an annual. During this 20-year period, Principal A.P. Routh was adamant that a yearbook could not be published again unless a strong financial base for an annual could be assured.

Amidst a groundswell of student support (led by Bob Carlson '49) in the late 1940's, Mr. Routh finally gave his approval, and the first issue of the new yearbook appeared in 1950. Chemistry teacher (and 1921 GHS graduate) Mrs. Estelle Mendenhall LeGwin was the first advisor. A contest was held to select a name for the new annual; the preface to the 1950 WHIRLIGIG explains the choice:

From all the suggestions made by the interested student body we decided upon WHIRLIGIG as the perfect name. Our athletic teams are called the Whirlwinds; moreover, O'Henry, a favorite son of Greensboro, wrote a book entitled WHIRLIGIGS. When we consulted Webster for a definition of "whirligig," we found it to mean anything which rotates from a pivot, and Greensboro is the Pivot of the Piedmont. We are delighted to have hit upon WHIRLIGIG, a title so appropriate and attractive.

WHIRLIGIGs have been published ever since, serving as permanent reminders for GHS alumni of their days at Senior or Grimsley. The fiftieth edition of the WHIRLIGIG is scheduled for publication in 1999, which coincidentally is the school's 100th anniversary.

Since its beginning, the WHIRLIGIG has had only eight advisors, the longest serving of whom was Miss Virginia Powell, who worked with 21 staffs, beginning with the 1952 edition and continuing through the volume issued in 1973. Presently Mrs. Linda Mylan advises the yearbook staff.

Some Opportunities . . .

More than a few boxes of unsold WHIRLIGIGs from over the years have surfaced at Grimsley, and Mrs. Linda Mylan would like our help in getting rid of them to make room for more storage space. If you've lost one or failed to purchase a copy when you were a student, this may be your chance! The dates available are 1970, 71, 75, 77, 80, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95 and 1996. If you're interested, get in touch with Mrs. Mylan at the school (336)370-8180 or by mail (801 Westover Ter., GSO, 27408) for details. This is your chance to get your WHIRLIGIG as well as to add to the funds available for publishing future editions. Copies are limited, so don't delay!

If you are interested in purchasing a copy of the 1999 WHIRLIGIG -- Volume 50, coinciding with GHS's 100th Anniversary -- or in placing an advertisement in next year's annual, please contact Mrs. Linda Mylan. 1999 WHIRLIGIGs must be purchased by October 9, 1998 and ads placed by October 23.

If you have old REFLECTORS or WHIRLIGIGs which you no longer wish to keep, or are looking for the same, please contact Peter Byrd '74 at 2753 W. A LOOK AT GRIMSLEY'S MADRIGAL SINGERS by Dr. Jennifer Martineau '84

On Wednesday, April 30, 1998, a group of approximately twenty-five Grimsley "alumni and friends" were treated to a wonderful luncheon at Grimsley as a "thank-you" for helping Grimsley to achieve some of its goals. It was a wonderful event, and the only thing better than the food was the entertainment – music by a string quartet from Grimsley's orchestra and the Grimsley Madrigal Singers.

After the luncheon, members of the Madrigal group offered to take guests on tours of the campus, revisiting our favorite spots. I had the opportunity to talk with some of the Madrigal Singers and their director, Ms. Marta Force, to learn more about the Madrigals and their role at Grimsley.

Today's Grimsley Madrigal Singers, founded in 1968, have received 23 consecutive superior ratings (the highest possible) at North Carolina MENC State Vocal Competition since 1975. There are actually two groups of Madrigal Singers at Grimsley – the original group is now called the "Gold Madrigals", and the new group, founded in 1995, is called the "Silver Madrigals." The Silver Madrigals have received four consecutive superior ratings at the same competition, and they are only four years old!

Very few schools have a vocal music program like Grimsley. Approximately 10% of high schools nationwide have small ensemble programs who perform. In fact, even fewer of these can boast the rigor of ours at Grimsley in terms of authenticity, presentation, and consistent high standards of performance.

Students must audition for a place in any vocal ensemble at Grimsley, both Gold and Silver Madrigals receive honors academic credit for their advanced level of performance. Participation in this group is not limited by class standing – there are freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors in the Madrigal groups. The group we heard was the Gold Madrigal Singers, a bright group of 26 students who boast an academic average of 3.8 for the 1997-98 school year! Each student must maintain a 2.5 grade point average to travel and perform. The group is comprised of young men and women, aged 14-18, and the ethnic make-up of the group reflects the local population.

Madrigal singing dates back to the fourteenth century, when dinner guests performed these secular compositions in castles and homes. The music, always sung without the accompaniment of musical instruments, usually has themes of love lost or love found. It is intricate music which can include five or more different vocal parts.

These days, The Grimsley Madrigal singers have a wider variety of musical performances, ranging from the traditional renaissance choral literature to vocal jazz and show choir pieces. They perform in costumes which are authentic to the fourteenth century. These costumes include short tunics, capes, hats, and tights for the men, and long dresses, capes, and hats for the women. The reason for the tights and long dresses was practical – those castles could get drafty on cold nights, and diners needed a way to keep their legs warm! The Grimsley costumes are researched, designed, sewn, and financed by the students and their families.

Family involvement is another unique feature of the Grimsley Madrigal Singers. It is not unusual for several members of a family to participate in the Madrigal groups during their time at Grimsley, and parents often serve as chaperones for the concert tours. Their pride in their children is obvious in an excerpt from a letter recently written by a Madrigal parent, describing an impromptu concert (a frequent occurrence!) that took place during their 1998 New York visit:

"There were about twelve of us that descended the stairway onto the subway platform at 53rd street station. There were no trains. A few dozen people were silently waiting and some scurried by to make other connections. It was quiet. Guess what? That's right, time for a song. The name of the song I don't remember. The sound, I do remember. It was a blending of voices and acoustics unlike anything I have ever heard. One of those young voices was my own daughter. You could feel this sound inside your chest. Every note blended into one sound and yet the voices were individual – incredible. New Yorkers are, by in large, indifferent to everything around them. Not this time. The scurriers stopped. A crowd gathered to listen. Then, as if choreographed by a great director, as the last note drifted away, the applause was drowned out only by the approaching train. The New Yorkers smiled. I was embarrassed by my own tears."

I don't know about you, but I get goosebumps imagining the scene. What pride I have in these young adults, representing our alma mater so well!

The Grimsley Madrigals have become extensive performers, averaging 74 performances each year. The group performs locally, including FOX8 television news segment, "What's Right with Our Schools" in November, 1997 and annual visits to the WFMY-TV Good Morning television show, the Reynolda House Museum of American Art, the Winthrop College Invitational Chamber Choir Festival, the Renaissance Festival in Davidson, NC. They have also performed in the following locations between 1994 and 1997:

Disney World United Kingdom Exhibit, Orlando, FL
East Room of the White House, Washington, DC
Duke University Chapel, Durham, NC
Southern Division Music Educators' Association Convention, Winston-Salem, NC
Holy Trinity Church, London, England
Wesley's Chapel, London, England
St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, NY

Epcot Center, Orlando, FL
The Washington National Cathedral, Washington, DC
The NC Executive Mansion, Raleigh, NC
Westminster Abbey, London, England
Stratford Upon Avon, London, England
The Medieval Banquet held at Tower Bridge, London, England
The Church of St. John the Divine, New York, NY

Their concert tour of the British Isles, included performances at York Minster Cathedral for Easter Sunday, at Penrith in the Lake District, in Edinburgh, Scotland and at Ruthvin Castle in Wales where they were treated to a medieval banquet! The most recent concert tour has been to Carnegie Hall in New York City on March 22, 1998, where the Grimsley Madrigal singers were selected by audition as the featured choir. (Giving Grimsley that 20 minutes of fame!) Their 1999 plans include a concert tour in Austria.

Contributing further to bringing Grimsley into the national focus, twelve of this year's students were selected in competitive audition for the American Choral Directors' Association Southern Division Honor Choir, and the four nominees for North Carolina Governor's School were each selected for participation in summer of 1998. From 1994 to present, the group has been recording selections for a "Madrigals' Greatest Hits" CD, sales of which will defray travel and scholarship costs for future Madrigal endeavors. Grimsley hopes to release the CD in the fall of 1998 or fall of 1999.

The Madrigal groups are completely self-financed, from the costumes to the travel expenses. In 1994, a trust fund was established in memory of Catherine Comer, a choir member and Madrigal from 1977-1980. This fund provides aid for students in need for purposes such as travel, costumes, music and other expenses. If the Madrigals hold a special place in your memories of Grimsley, please consider earmarking your Grimsley High School Alumni and Friends membership fee, or additional donation, to the Grimsley Madrigals.

A big part of the Madrigals' success is their director, Marta Force. Ms. Force is celebrating her 20th year at Grimsley, and is serving her 17th year as the President of the North Carolina Summer Institute of Choral Art, which was founded by Eula Tuttle during her time as GHS choral director – a program that clearly has strong ties to Grimsley. Ms. Force also directs the Carolina Children's Chorus, a community choir of children ages 8 to 12 years. She has frequently served as a clinician and adjudicator (judge) for choral events nationally, and is the incoming (1998-2000) choral section chair for the North Carolina Music Educators Association and will serve as the High School Repertoire and Standards Chair for the Southern Division of American Choral Directors Association for 1998-2000. Some of you may remember Ms. Force best for her headline-making pursuit of horse thieves in 1979, in which she successfully reclaimed several horses including her own. These days, she spends her spare time (!) raising Border Terriers.
